STUDENTS ASSERT IDEALS

Renewal and reassertion are the words which exemplify a new spirit. This spirit, fostered by recent social, economic, political, and religious developments is now evident at St. Paul High School. Consequently the student body is in the process of reiterating its beliefs. The belief in God, the personal dignity of man, and the intellectual and spiritual fulfillment as a function of education are finding a new and perhaps initial expression. 1965 is the realization of these ideals.

The 1965 Lumen is itself a result of this renascent vitality. Therefore, the yearbook is dedicated to the core of our spirit, Father Cranham.

Within a few minutes after the dismissal bell, scurrying students begin their race against time to catch their buses. Confusion reigns while the bus driver patiently waits until all the passengers are aboard.

The statue of Our Lady of Talpa in the administration building is a tribute to the people of Mexican descent of the area.

Serenity and order characterize the lunch area in the cool evenings and attest to the inherent peaceful atmosphere of the campus.

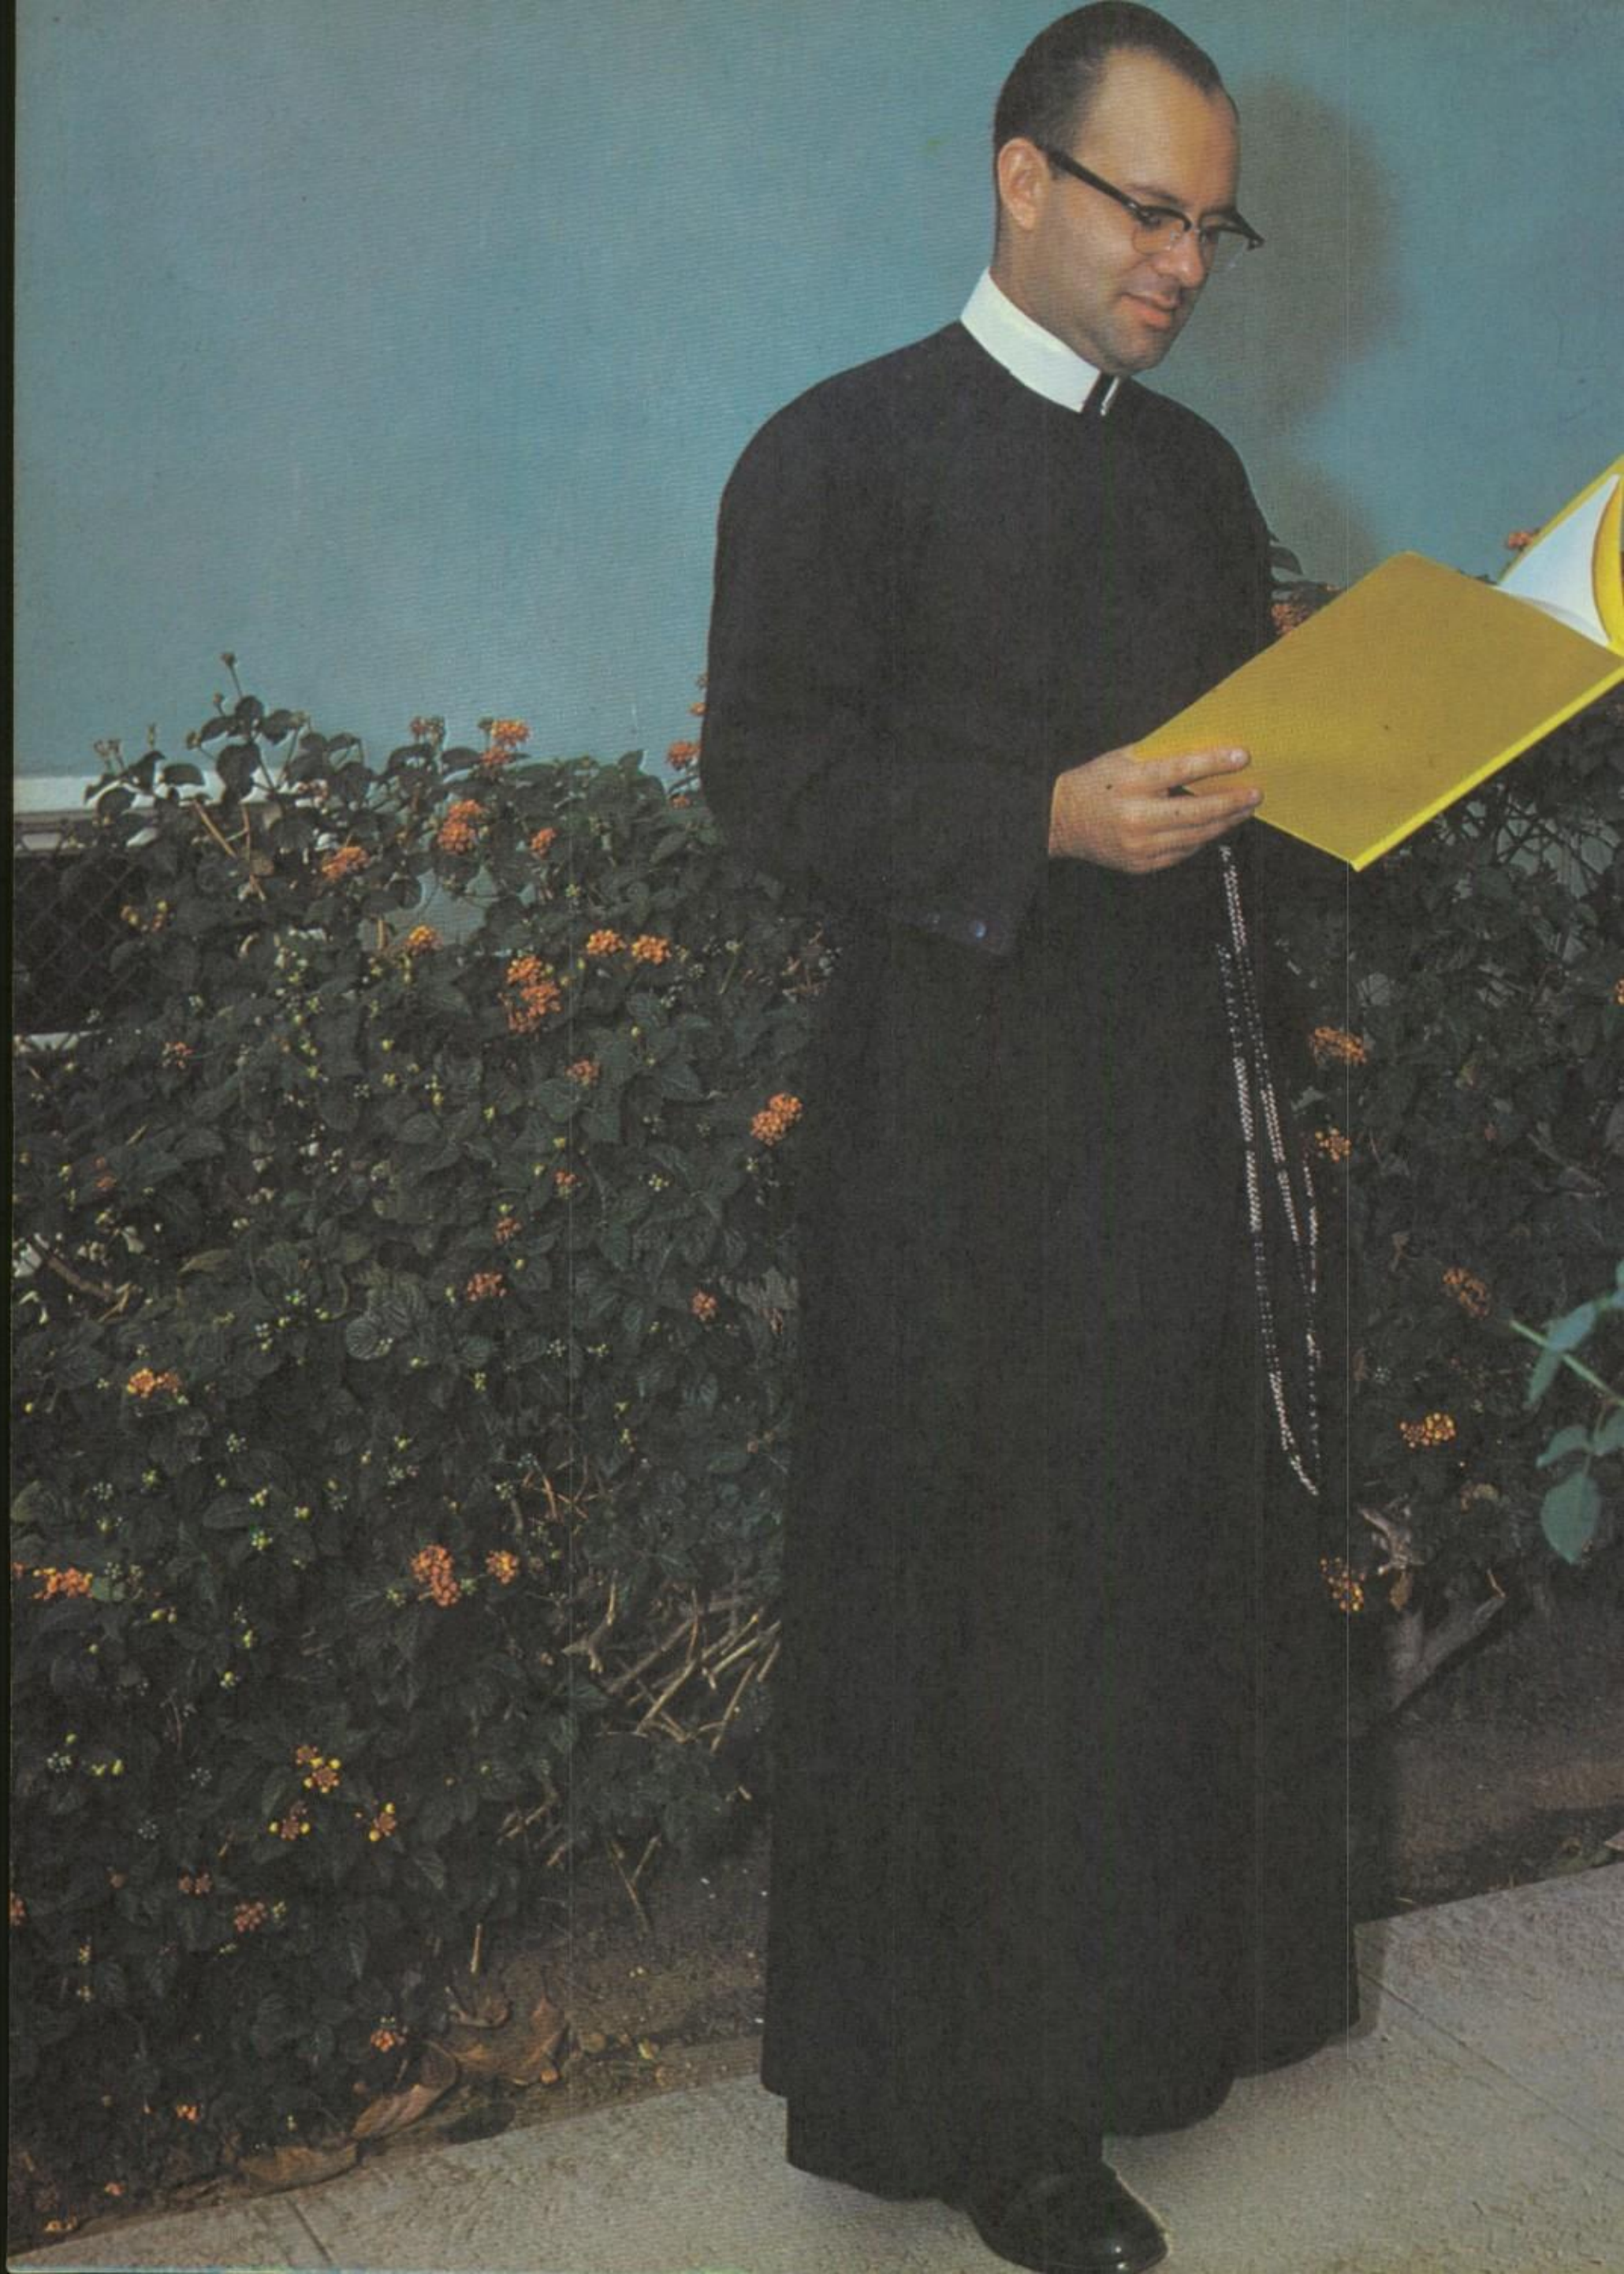

The student parking lot is one of the busiest areas of the campus. Large enough to accommodate three hundred cars, the lot adequately meets the needs of those who live in distant neighborhoods and find it more convenient to drive than to use the bus service.

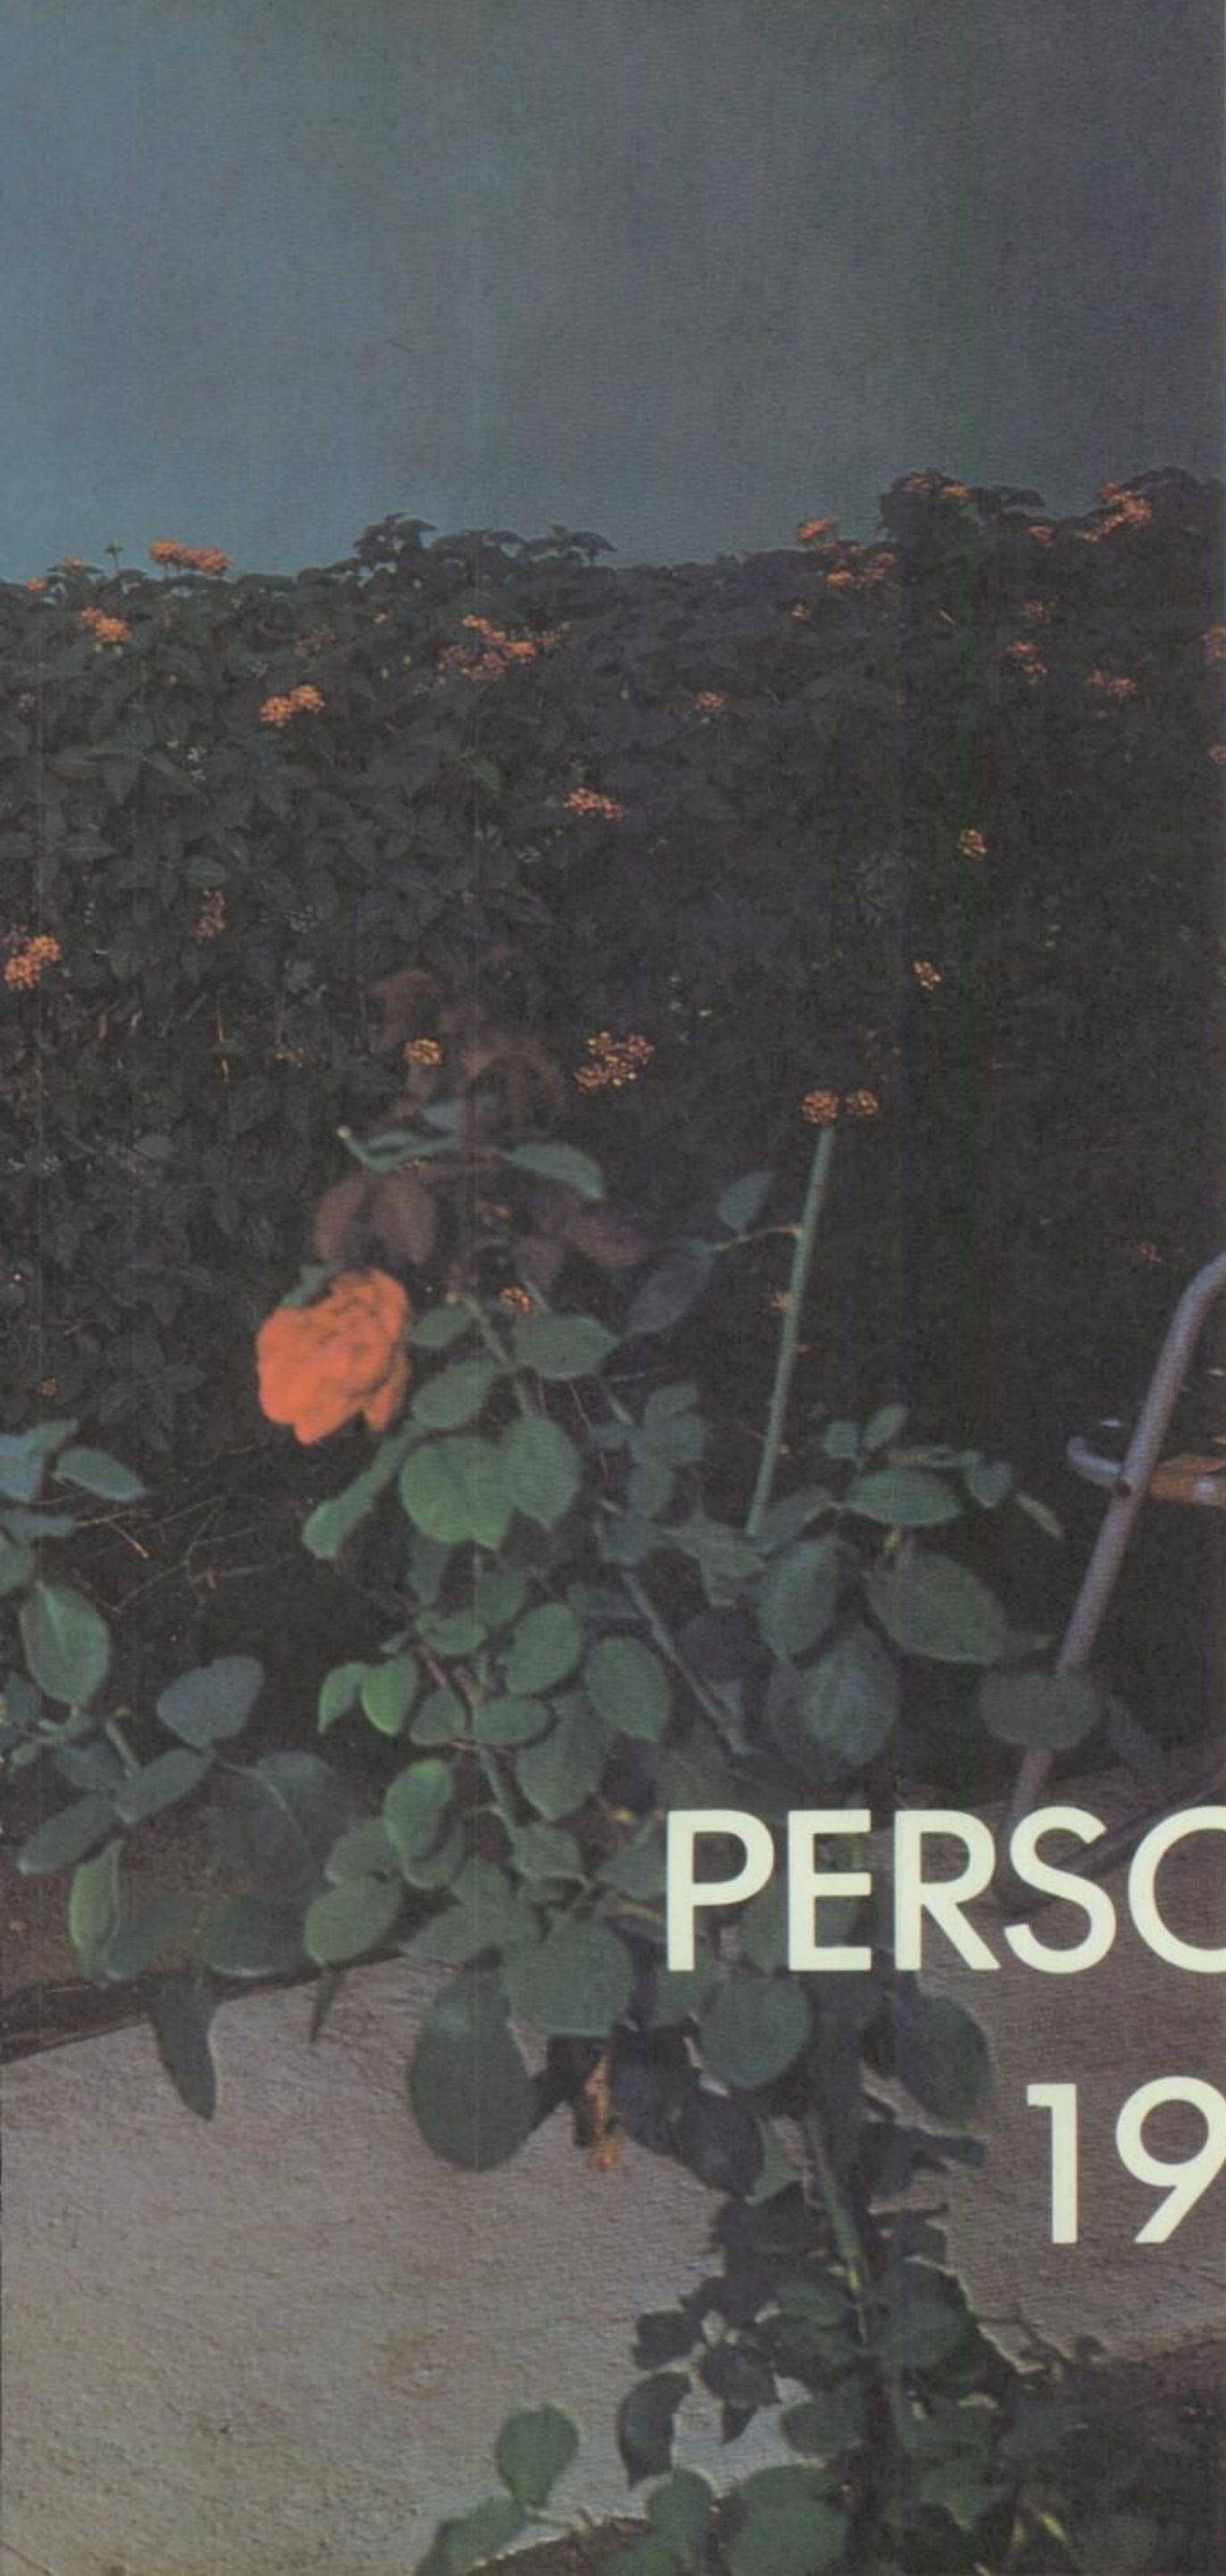

The newest addition to the school is the 500 building, completed last spring. Constructed in the traditional red brick of the campus, it lies directly to the side of the snack bar, and is composed of eight boys' homerooms.

PERSONNEL

The students of St. Paul High School depend upon the capable and devoted assistance of numerous personnel for the effective operation of the school. Under the guidance of Father Cranham, the faculty, counselors, and staff labor diligently to provide the peaceful atmosphere and balanced curriculum necessary to serve the needs of each student.

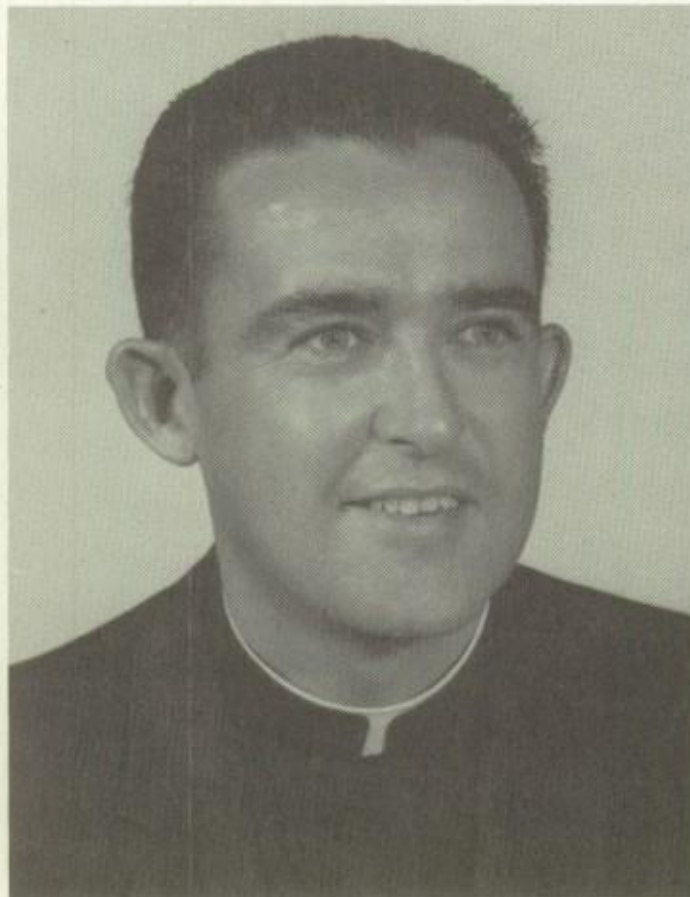

The faculty is composed of Father Cranham, the principal, twenty lay teachers, ten Franciscan brothers, and twenty nuns representing five orders.

Two custodians, three dieticians, a librarian, a gardener, and three office personnel complete the staff.

The senior year is a combination of studious endeavors and extracurricular activities. Seniors work hard to advance their scholastic achievement in preparation for the future. As leaders of the school, however, they are not oblivious to the lighter side of life. The A.S.B. officers pilot the student body through the year while other seniors participate in sports or belong to diverse clubs and organizations on campus. Their co-operation in school projects exemplifies the enthusiasm of the united senior class.

Under the guidance of spirited officers, the junior class now stands prominent in the eyes of the student body. Their contributions to the campus organizations greatly aid the school in the achievement of its goals. Class participation in civic affairs, develops good citizenship which overflows into extracurricular activities.

The distinction of selecting a new permanent design for the class ring sets this year's juniors apart from previous classes. To the diligent labors of these students, the Prom, Skance, and various other school drives owe their success.

The sophomores, the class of 1967, return this year a bit wiser and very anxious to begin the year's activities. They view last year as one crowned with success, and believe they will persevere on the path of excellence this year.

They accomplish their purpose by active participation in extra-curricular activities, both civic and academic. Sophomores are interested in the Young Democrats and various parish groups. They have members in the sophomore Sodality, the Pep club, the Drama club, the Letterman club, the Lumen staff, athletic teams, and other school-centered organizations.

Their officers exemplify the spontaneous spirit of the class through their adept leadership and planning of the successful sophomore dance. The students always show their spirit, whether they are doing homework or selling chocolate. The most striking attribute of the class is the unity with which it always acts.

FRESHMEN ASSUME LEADERSHIP

Matt Anderson
Theresa Anderson

Fred Aguilar

A fresh young group of students enter the gates of St. Paul High School this year, anxious to embark upon a four year course of spiritual and intellectual development.

The freshmen gaze over a campus vibrating with activities, and they almost become lost in the maelstrom. Everywhere is a club to join, a drive to support, or a sports event to capture their time. Sometimes they become so involved they are tempted to forget one of the primary reasons for their presence at school, namely, to grow intellectually.

They are amazed by and caught up in the spirit of the upperclassmen, and they soon begin to add their own special variety to the whole. This spirit, born of unity, manifests itself in the face of a freshman hard at work in the library, cheering loudly at a basketball game, or attentively praying the Mass with the student body.

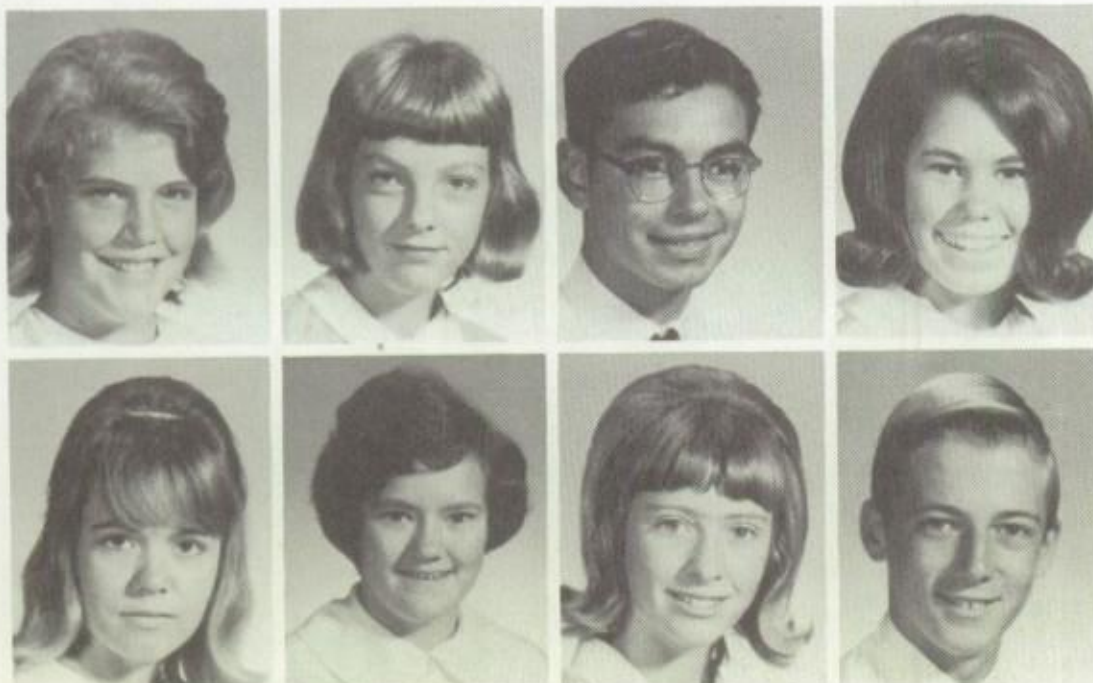

The freshman class officers labor diligently for a lasting unity of mind and will in their class. It is they who lead the freshmen down the first mile of the long road to a successful future.

ACTIVITIES

Student government at St. Paul High School operates through the student council. The purpose of the council is to govern student affairs, implement student ideas and cement faculty-student relationships. The boys' and girls' student bodies each elect four officers to head the council. The rest of the council is composed of eight class presidents and the presidents of the major organizations on campus. In addition to the services which it performs, the student council enables potential leadership qualities to be developed.

LEADERSHIP MIRRORS STUDENTS' MINDS

OFFICERS. Cathy Cunningham, corresponding secretary; Margaret Morales, prefect; Bonnie Raine, secretary; and Chris Lins, vice-prefect initiate the publicity for their Kandy Kane dance.

The Sodality of Our Lady is the official girls' religious organization on campus. It aims to make its members outstanding leaders who work for personal spiritual improvement and to fulfill the ideals of Christian charity in others.

Membership in the Sodality is open to all girls. The freshmen and sophomores have their own Sodalities, while the juniors and seniors are united.

With goals of spiritual, mental, and emotional maturity for its members, the Sodalists initiate the year's activities with an enlightening day of recollection and the first Bible service ever held on the campus. The annual clothing drive for needy children in Tijuana, and the weekly visits to Maryvale orphanage and Rancho los Amigos hospital enkindle warmth in many hearts. The Eucharistic Committee assumes responsibility for perpetual adoration before and after school and during the lunch periods of every school day. The annual crowning of Our Lady in May and the Act of Consecration climax a year replete with profitable activities.

SODALISTS DISCUSS CIVIC PROBLEMS

SODALISTS Rose Ann Carelli, Theresa Vella, Mary Souriall, Ginny Knox, Sue Blackman, Kathy Watson, and Pat Powers form a discussion group to talk of the common problems of a Catholic girl and the best means of solving these problems.

One of the apostolic works of the Sodalists is to aid needy families with food and clothing at Christmas time. Sodalists Pat Villelli, Bernadette Hickey, Vicki De John, and Ginny Knox enjoy helping others by wrapping some of the hundreds of this year's gifts.

As part of the daily functions of the Sodality, Rhea Brewer arranges the vestments in the sacristy after the morning Mass. Sodalists also clean the chapel and care for the altar every week.

Chris Moroney, Dan Lough, and Terry McDermott arrive early to help out at Fred C. Nelles school, a job they perform every Sunday.

THIRD ORDER OFFICERS. Dan Lough, treasurer; Dave Benner, secretary; Terry McDermott, vice-president; Charles Moroney, prefect.

THIRD ORDER. "The Third Secular of Saint Francis is an association of the faithful who strive to achieve Christian perfection in the world, under the direction of the Franciscan Order and according to its spirit, but in a manner suited to life in the world. This they do according to the rule drawn up for them by the Seraphic Father Francis, as approved and interpreted by the Apostolic see."

This year witnesses the introduction of the Third Order to St. Paul High School. Members join for life and try to be instruments of "Pax et bonum" both on and off campus. The St. Paul Fraternity meets weekly to discuss their apostolic work and progress. Each Sunday the boys assist at Mass at Fred C. Nelles school and lead the boys in prayer. In May some attend a leadership course to prepare them to lead exemplary lives as Catholic laymen. Every activity of the order attempts to help the members achieve their goal of personal sanctification.

LIBRARY GUILD. The Library Guild is one of the hardest working service clubs at school. It is difficult to realize the time and effort necessary for processing, mending, and lending books for our growing library unless one has the opportunity to visit the workroom while Guild members are at their jobs. The Guild's goals are twofold: to provide educational and recreational reading matter, and to train Guild members in the skills instrumental in becoming useful library aids.

At the Guild Christmas party, co-presidents Dennis Hutchings and Chris Martel join with the other guild members to make this yule a joyous one, especially for the children who still believe in Santa Claus.

HONOR SOCIETIES. Two prominent organizations on campus are the National Honor Society and the California Scholarship Federation. Both clubs exist to bestow honor and acclaim to deserving students who, through school service and diligent study, maintain the high level of achievement necessary to become a member.

The National Honor Society primarily recognizes outstanding school service in its members. Its foremost goal is to form responsible, thinking citizens through a program which stresses selflessness. This year the NHS is following a policy of cultural development through a newly-initiated program of "Education through Entertainment" with such features as the Padre Choristers and a debate. Also on the agenda is the election of the class Students of the Month.

Membership in the California Scholarship Federation is open to those who maintain a high scholastic rating. The federation implements its motto of "Scholarship for Service" through the recent founding of the Gerald J. Moschel Scholarship Fund which gives five one hundred dollar grants to deserving seniors at the end of each year.

Thus, these two honor societies, the NHS and the CSF, fulfill their purpose.

HONOR SOCIETIES INSPIRE SERVICE

The debate on the Civil Rights Bill between the University of Pennsylvania and Cal State at Los Angeles is part of the educating and entertaining program sponsored by the National Honor Society.

PAULITORIAN. The Paulitorian, the official chronical of the school, holds a high place among the many organizations on campus. The annual subscription drive opens each school year, and a cub reporting course for budding school journalists follows.

Written and edited entirely by students, with Sr. Conleth as moderator, the Paulitorian records the activities, feature events and accomplishments of merit involving St. Paul students. This year's staff consists of both seasoned reporters and eager new members who work together to prepare the paper for publication six times a year.

The dual purpose of the paper enables interested students to use it as a means of self-expression and to acquire valuable journalistic skills for use not only in the present, but also in the future.

Glenna McKercher, Paulitorian editor, and Sandy Johnson, assistant editor, work side by side to produce a quality student publication of interest.

SCRIBES RELATE NEWS

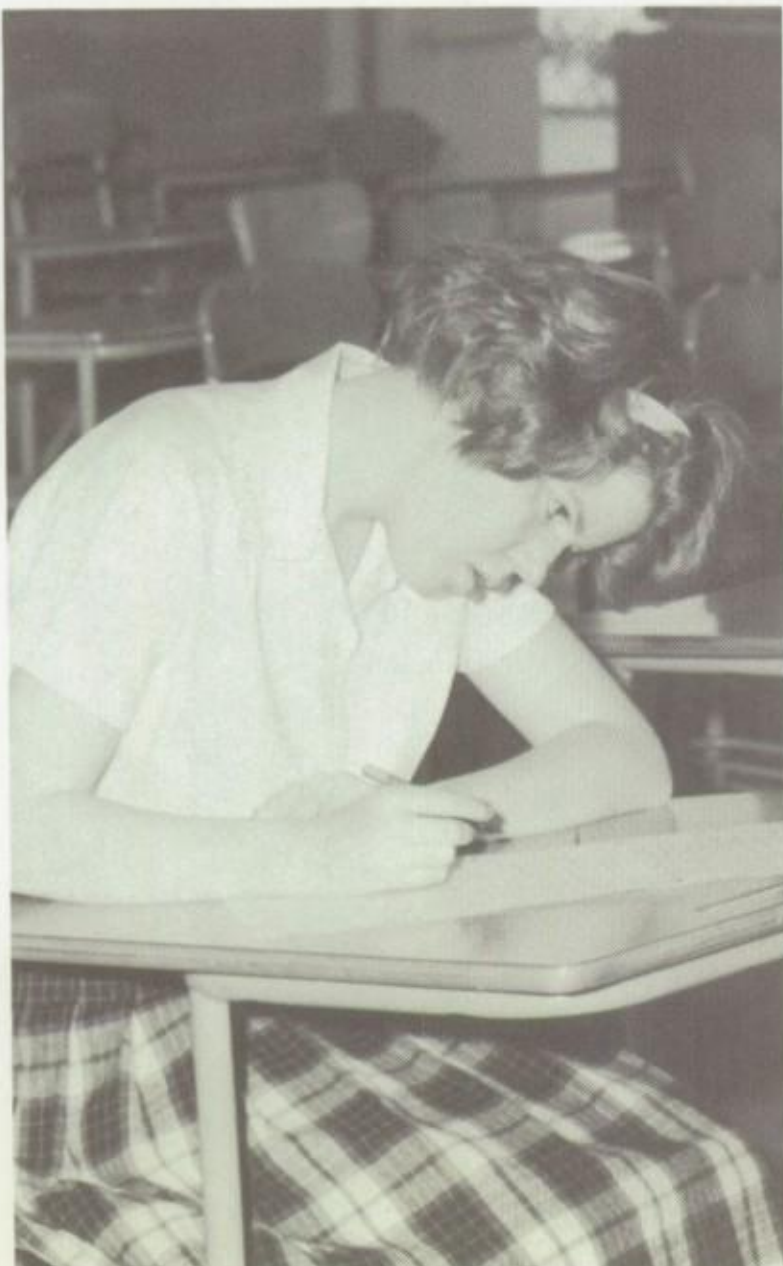

Tom Walters, photographer; Mary Wiley, co-feature editor; Bonnie Raine, co-feature editor; and Richard Ronan, junior editor, assume indispensable roles in the publication of the Paulitorian.

QUILL AND SCROLL OFFICERS. Sitting: Bonnie Raine, vice-president; and Anne Shaughnessy, secretary. Standing: Glenna McKercher, president; and Mary Wiley, treasurer. The Quill and Scroll, an international honor society for high school journalists, is in its fifth year at St. Paul High School.

Business Staff Gloria Mendoza, Therese Vella, business manager; Peggy Bowen, and Sue Prukop tabulate the results of the Paulitorian Drive.

Co-editors Tom Dovidio and Tia Harrison supervise the work of all the editors and organize the production of the Lumen.

The Lumen. After a year's absence, the Lumen is back on campus. Hard-working students, enthusiastic over its revival, volunteer much of their time and effort to compile the annual. The entire student body joins to support a feature-length, fund-raising movie and to attend the annual winter Mardi Gras.

During the year, top-secret work goes on behind closed doors as moderators Miss Schiffert and Brother Kieran and an energetic staff complete page after page in a race to meet each of four deadlines.

However, they forget all headaches and tensions on that climatic day when the Lumen finally emerges as a success and anxious students rush to claim their copies.

Larry Wolf, Tony Recotta, Dave Troesh, Rick O'Connor, Dan Valles, and John Keller climb high to hang balloons for the Mardi Gras. At eleven o'clock all the balloons fall so everyone has a souvenir.

EDITORS ADOPT YEARBOOK POLICY

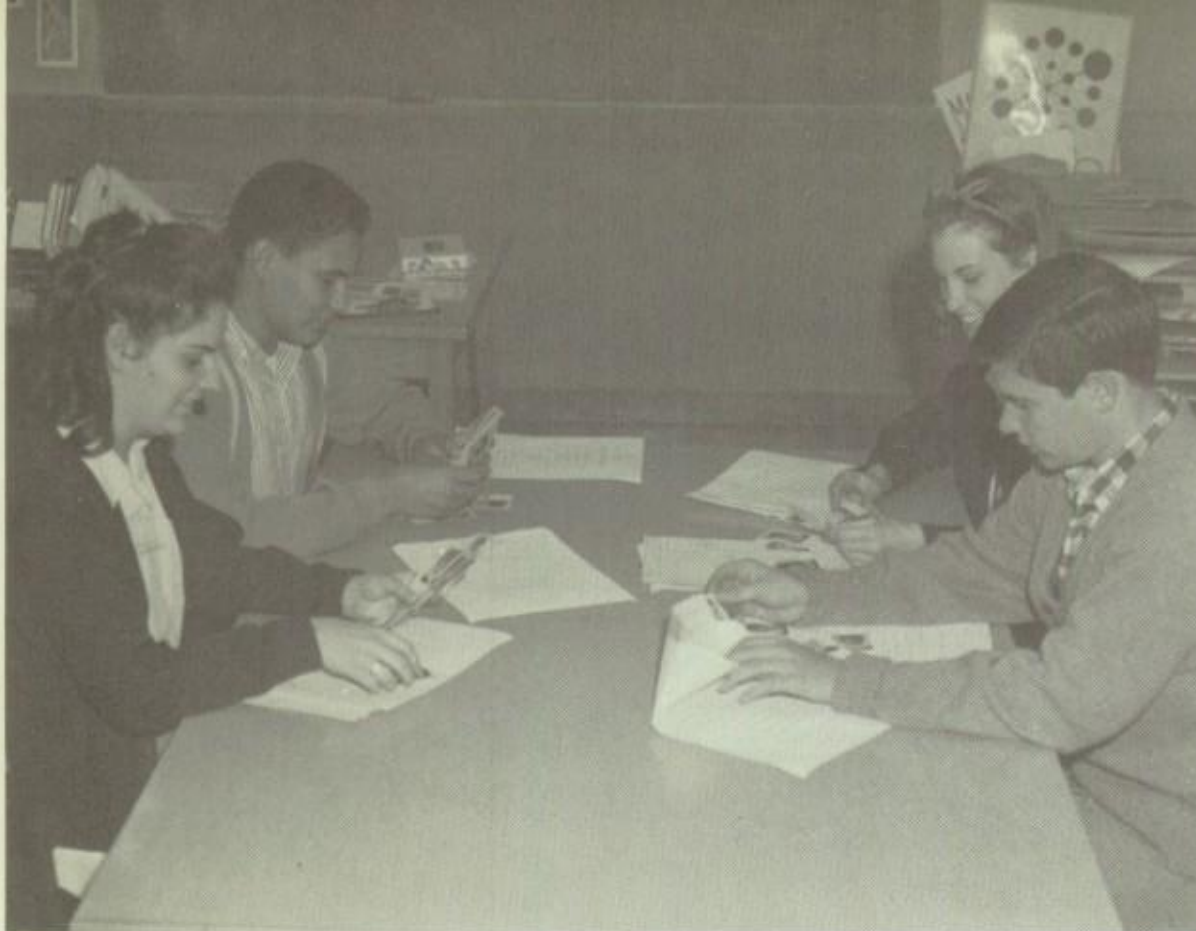

COPY EDITORS. Mary Miller, Bill Dummer.

Editors, Francine Howell, Tom Dovidio, and Tia Harrison, consult company representative Jon C. Nelson and Miss Schiffert, Lumen moderator, concerning the size and style of print.

Lumen co-editor Tom Dovidio looks startled when he opens his door to the conspiring "papering" committee, Cathy and Tia Harrison, Bernadette Hickey, Larry Wolf, and Francine Howell.

BELLARMINE CLUB. As everyone is well aware, we, as Americans, are involved in a cold war with Russia. However, to the informed members of the Bellarmine Club, this war has many warm, even hot, overtones. This Communist study group is constantly watching the moves of Russia and her influence on world affairs. Members bring their ideas to light at their bi-monthly meetings. In the ensuing exchange and conflict of opinions, students who have active minds and are alert concerning world affairs learn a great deal concerning America's everpresent and insidious enemy. Poise and confidence are developed by debates and student reports, and friendly competition is encouraged by quiz-downs. Films, records, and tape recordings are watched or listened to attentively by members of the Club in the firm belief that fighting an enemy about whom we know nothing is like boxing shadows.

POSTER CLUB. The primary goal of the Poster Club is to make posters. Originating last year, its membership is open to all. Its bright, eye-catching posters, which line our corridors from September through June, effectively publicize upcoming Paulevents. Campus clubs utilize its resources to advertise their projects.

As a new club, its record of lively participation is noteworthy, and its members see a promising future for their highly useful group.

SPEECH CLUB. New blood rushes through the veins of a rejuvenated Speech Club this year. The club, existing but inactive in the past, is beginning to capture the limelight in the first few weeks of competition. Sister M. Bernadine, coach, ably helps the team to cop awards in quick succession at local tournaments.

Team members enjoy debate, dramatic, humorous, and oratorical interpretation, and extemporaneous and impromptu speaking, which enable them to acquire poise in public speaking.

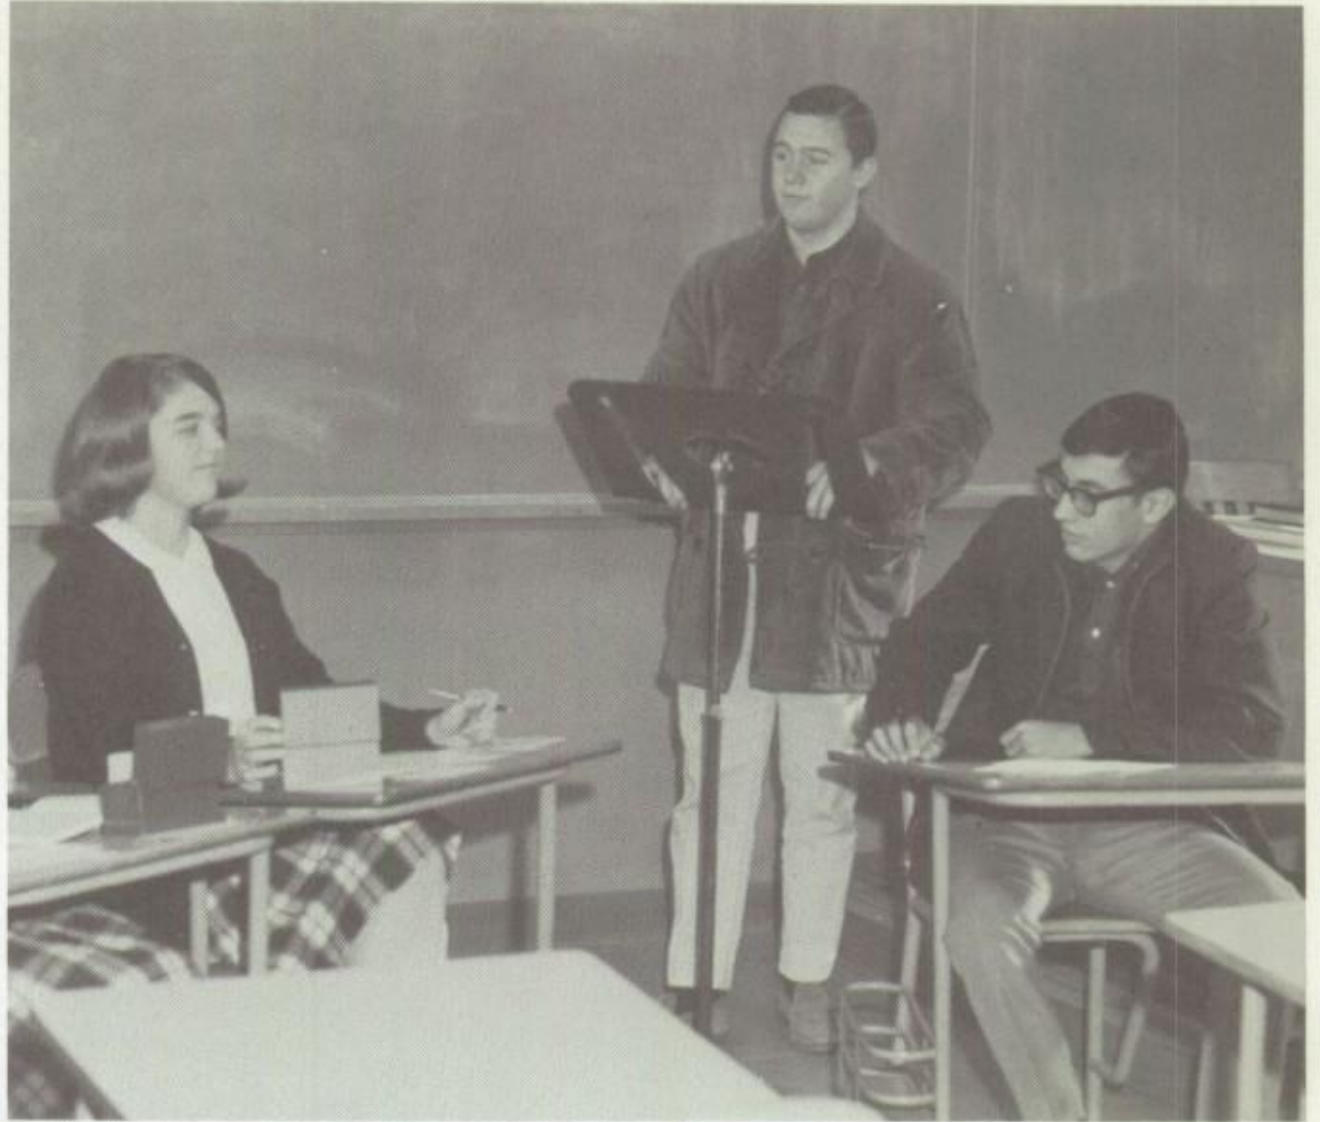

The club holds membership in the Catholic Forensic League, the Southern California Debate League, and the Southern California Speech Council.

SPEECH CLUB OFFICERS. Terry Regan, treasurer; Chris Corrin, vice-president; Nancy Grembla, secretary; and Kevin McLean, president; conduct meetings and work closely with the faculty moderator to train talented speakers.

FORENSICS TEACHES EXPERT DEBATE

STUDENTS DEPICT SPANISH CUSTOMS

SPANISH CLUB. The Spanish Club, open to all students of Spanish, is a traditional campus club. It aims to provide a better understanding and appreciation of the customs and culture of all Spanish-speaking people.

December 12 is the day of the annual procession in honor of Our Lady of Guadalupe in which the members walk through the halls singing and praying in Spanish. A piñata party is an enjoyable sequel to this event. A yearly Mexican dinner enables the members to taste authentic Spanish food. Through its weekly meetings and annual projects, the Spanish club fulfills its goals and leaves room for fun as well.

Accompanied by guitars, Spanish Club members sing beautiful hymns in honor of our Lady of Guadalupe for the enjoyment of the student body.

After their Christmas procession in honor of Our Lady of Guadalupe the Spanish Club enjoys a traditional party. Members take turns trying to break the piñata.

THE DRAMA CLUB. This important campus organization strives to supply the entertainment and diversion which are so much a part of life today. It also helps students interested in drama to strengthen their dramatic capacities on stage and their artistic abilities behind the scenes.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Regalado, the club presents a delightful Christmas play, the Noel Candle during the Yuletide season and Stardust at the close of the first semester. Thus, club members familiarize themselves with the workings of the theater while providing cultural recreation for the school.

Dawn Stafford, Mary Runfola, Kathy Knudsen, and Elizabeth O'Brien help Dot Lowry, Mimi Nolan, Jim Perkins, Laurie Hambsch, and Jeanne Wiley to select material for the Stardust props.

DRAMA CLUB DISPLAYS VARIED TALENT

Margaret Morales, in charge of costumes of Stardust, and Barbara Kennedy help Ann Blumberg with her costume for Octavia.

ACTORS OFFER ENTERTAINING COMEDY

Mavis Moriarity, Carol Zepeda, a student of Mr. Bach's school of acting, declares in tones of deep conviction that she will someday become famous through the use of her hands. Marion Phipps, Cheryl Haller, and Cynthia Keene, Jo Ann Collier, ponder her remarks with feelings of admiration tinged with doubt.

Stardust, written by Walter Kerr, satirizes the plight of American drama today. It is the story of a group of aspiring young "method" actors who think it necessary to live every part. However, a famous Broadway star teaches everyone, the actors, the coaches, the mentors, and director, that acting is half observation and half imagination. Moreover, she shows them that actors can be normal human beings with natural hopes and ideals which only off-stage life can fulfill.

The presentation of the comedy in February climaxes many months of rehearsal. The cast and crew consist of some fifty talented students under the able direction of Margaret Regalado, the Drama Club moderator.

Letitia Fitzpatrick as Claire Carter grins smugly as Pat Dannan, Jerry Flanagan, shows his I.D. card to an astounded dean of women, Pat Powers, who thinks he is a drunkard rather than a legitimate talent scout.

Denise Coutu, Patty Bain, stage manager, John Keller, and Linda Kovash laugh over the statue which a young actress will imitate. To create the set for Stardust the props crew uses marked originality and adeptness.

The Art Club field trip includes a back lot tour of many permanent sets in addition to the Virginian street.

ART CLUB. As one of the most active clubs on campus, the Art Club aims at combining a cultural appreciation of art with school service and all-around fun. The club gets off to a fast start by turning the gymnasium-auditorium into an Arabian Nights wonderland for the Homecoming Dance. Later in the year, members spend an informative and fun-packed day visiting the movie studio at Universal City and learning backstage secrets! On a strictly cultural level, the club tours the La Cienega Art Galleries, marveling at some of the world's finest masterpieces. To round out the year, members gather at the traditional May dinner.

LETTERMEN CLUB. The Lettermen Club of St. Paul High School is the school's outstanding example of a working service organization. It achieves its goal of student body service through its many spirited and helpful campaigns. These include the very successful Campus Clean-Up, the Car Wash, the ushering at all the basketball games and other important school activities. Aside from these services, the Letterman Club serves as a wonderful spirit booster during the football season with its game-of-the-week promotion posters, which serve to boost attendance and cooperation to a new high. Other activities include the Letterman's dance and the Letterman's picnic.

THE GIRLS'ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION. More than five hundred new members swell the ranks of this year's GAA as the extremely effective membership drive comes to a close. This organization works closely with the GAA board and the Pep Club to spark all the girls' teams to victory.

After a successful volleyball season, for which they boast an undefeated "B" team, the girls sponsor a Halloween hootenanny featuring folk singing and an alumni-varsity volleyball game.

With the crisp winter wind comes the bouncing balls from the gym as the 1965 basketball team starts its daily practice. Climaxing a winning season is the annual St. Anthony tournament in April.

Another first for the organization this year is the ping-pong tournament heralding the other tournaments and events of the second semester. Softball season concludes an active year of original activities and sports events.

FIVE HUNDRED GIRLS UNITE

LETTERGIRLS. First Row: Ellen Jensen, Marlene Thommes, and Linda Gaskill. Second Row: Louise Endicott, Pam Heberle, and Marie Redman. Third Row: Karen McEvoy, Kathy Cunningham, and Bonnie Raine. Girls who earn 500 GAA points merit the recognition of Lettergirl status.

PEP CLUB. Behind every "rah" there's a student, and behind every student there's an enthusiastic Pep Club member, boosting more vigorous spirit in the student body. The Pep Club, a vital behind-the-scenes organization, works hand in hand with the Girls' Athletic Association and the Pep Squad, in promoting school spirit at both girls' and boys' athletic events.

Although all Saint Paul students are welcome to join, the real members are those who attend the meetings and obtain service points through participation and support of school-sponsored sports activities.

During the year the Pep Club holds numerous functions, such as hootenannys, play days, rallies, and the selling of victory apples in order to enlist the enthusiastic support of the students.

PEP SQUAD. The 1964-65 pep squad, consisting of the songleaders and yell leaders, guides the enthusiastic student body in cheers and songs which reflect the spirit of Saint Paul High School. They boost school spirit with varied pre-game activities, such as rallies, victory apple sales after school, the decoration of the goal posts for Homecoming, and the widespread publication of up-coming athletic events. The flagsters and majorettes complement this spirit with their energetic performances during half time at football and basketball games.

PEP SQUAD REFLECTS SCHOOL SPIRIT

Faces of pep squad members Lonna Baiocchi, Jan Davidson, Gerry Masiello, and Barbara Bennewate reflect mixed emotions during the Pius X game.

SPECTATORS CHEER SWORDSMEN

A spectator at all St. Paul sports events, as well as at the U S C - Notre Dame game, is Rev. Charles C. Cranham and his ever-present cigar.

PRECISION IS KEY FOR DRILL TEAM

DRILL TEAM. The St. Paul drill team appears in new uniforms this year to raise the spirit of the student body to new vigor. It achieves this goal by active participation at pep rallies and games. Sitting in block formation, it serves as the focal point of lively rooting sections and displays the fine spirit of the high school through unique hand routines to accompany the cheers. Its foremost duty is to entertain the rooters during half-time at all home football and basketball games. Off campus the drill team represents St. Paul High School in the annual Our Lady of Guadalupe Parade in Los Angeles.

Members of the drill team come from the sophomore, junior, and senior class; thus, selection to the organization is a highly competitive contest.

The basketball drill team, smaller than the football drill team, performs only at home games and instead of forming letters or symbols, they march to music. In the front half of the "X" are: Joan Stewart, Roxanne O'Neill, Terry Karch, Ike Roche, Dolores Aragon, Peggy Loneragan, Carmen Loneragan, Bernadette Heaton, and Sue Bell. Cathy Harrison, Bobbie Albright, Yvonne La Roque, Mary Lillig, Chris Lins, Kathy Ahlring, and Chris Corrin are in the back half of the "X".

Jerry Hough, Shorty Lopez, and George Lyles take advantage of the silence of the retreat to do some thought-provoking spiritual reading.

Everyone seems to be happy as they listen and dance to the music of the Sounds Inc. at the annual Skance. This evening of lively skating and dancing helps to raise money for the prom.

St. Paul High School is pleased to have Hector Gerona, Edward Haller, and John Paolino, exchange students from Uruguay as the first ever to come to our campus.

The Swordsmen varsity, having worked since May of 1964 for a successful season, fought hard all year, and their efforts were not completely fruitless. After losing the opening game, the Swordsmen came back and won their next three games before dropping the league opener to Mater Dei. The following three games bolstered their spirit as they realized that a victory over Servite in their last game would give them a C.I.F. playoff berth. However, after a tough defensive battle, St. Paul lost, but the 1964 varsity squad ended a memorable season with a 6-3 record.

Sophomore Rick Banuzlos bulls his way over the goal line for the final touchdown against Cantwell in a 34-6 Swordsmen romp.

BASKETBALL. The Swordsmen of Saint Paul finished the 1964-1965 varsity basketball season with a 91-63 rout of Salesian's Mustangs, bringing their final record to ten wins against thirteen losses.

The squad played even ball until the waning moments of the season when they ran into successive losses against Cantwell, Servite and Mater Dei, before winning over Salesian in the finale to place fourth in Angelus League play. Jerry Hough, who nabbed All League honors at center, wound up his prep career with a nifty 19.6 average for the year. Early in January he shattered the school scoring record of twenty-nine points, previously held by Bob Aldrich, by dropping thirty-one points through the basket against Nogales.

All League forward Bill Carroll, who had a season high of twenty-eight points against La Salle, finished the season with a 14.8 average. Thus another basketball campaign ended with hope for a successful future.

TEAMWORK DAZZLE

Bill Carroll sinks a long shot from the left corner as avid St. Paul fans watch closely.

OPPONENTS

Tom Reinhold anxiously awaits the ball to return from its orbit as a Cantwell player looks on in amazement.

CAGERS SHOOT FOR THE MOON

"Where'd he come from" were the thoughts of the Bee's as an unidentified Salesian player grabs a rebound from the surprised St. Paul team.

Fred Valko often finds time to practice ballet, even during a game. John Weidman is ready to protect Fred when the men in the white suits come to get him.

All eyes are on Mike Owings as he sets to push in a freethrow in a triumphant clash against Salesian.

TRACK AND FIELD

Schedule

1965 VARSITY TRACK AND FIELD

March 4	Serra
March 11	Mt. Carmel
March 18	St. Monica
March 24	Pater Noster
April 1	Cantwell
April 8	Pius X
April 14	Servite
April 22	Salesian
April 29	Mater Dei

Brian Quirk, barely edging out Jim Larkin, strides hard to an exciting 880 finish.

After everyone's gone home, Junior Bob Bell hurdles late into the afternoon perfecting his hopeful winning form.

TRACK AND FIELD. Prospects look good for the cindermen of St. Paul High this year. Although suffering the loss of several stars via graduation this year's forces promise many victories. The squad has the advantage of a four man coaching staff including Mr. Ancich, Mr. Shaw, Mr. Casas and Mr. Rankin. Each man works with a separate group thereby giving the sprinters, distance runners, shot putters, and pole-vaulters the special attention they need. Bolstered by several experienced seniors and aided by promising underclassmen, this year's team aims to keep the word victory synonymous with the name St. Paul High.

All eyes are on Cee sprinter Dave Benner as he wins the 180. Straining Mike Ferrato, Jim Baden, and Jim Breslin follow close behind.

Bob Rocha in halfway over the 6 ft. leap. He could set a new school record this year.

BASEBALL

BASEBALL. Baseball has never been very prominent in St. Paul's athletic program. That is, until this year. Bob Burt, in his second year as the Swordsman coach, molded a strong, fighting corps of diamond stars who are the best in this school's history. Led by All-CIF Ron Tretter and fellow co-captain, Dan Doore, the Swordsmen left every opponent who faced them, eating "humble pie."

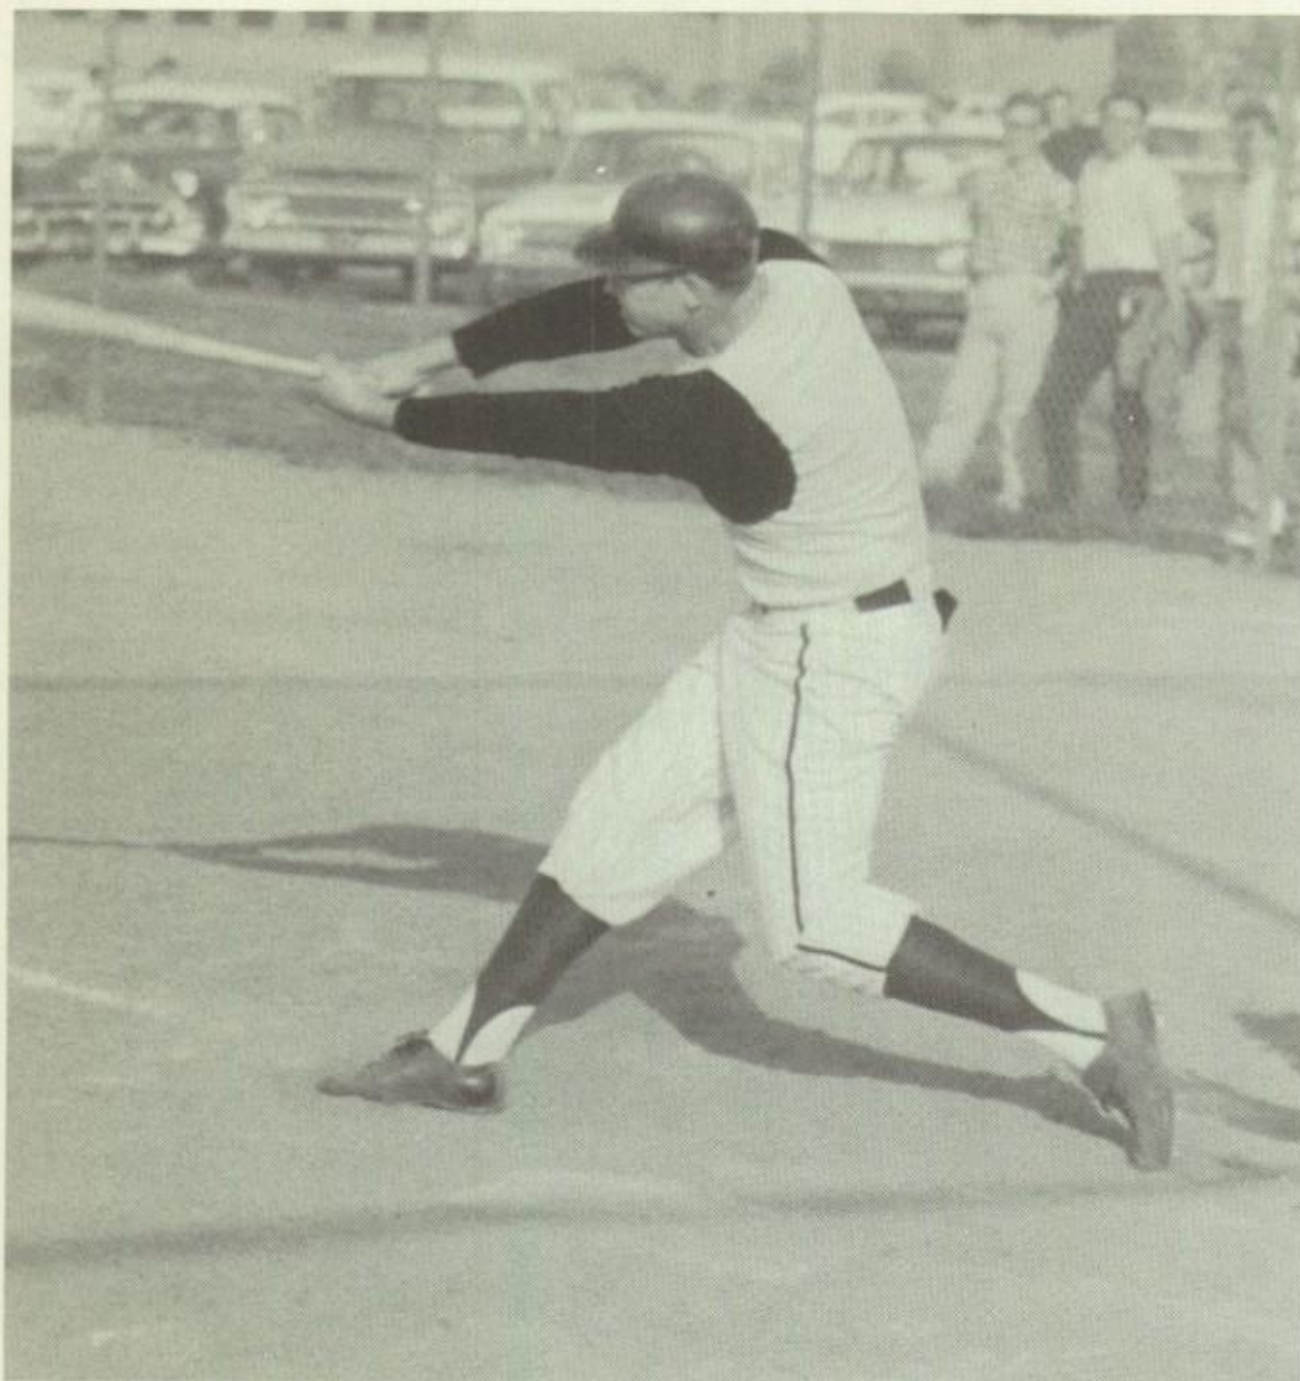

Thanks to the varsity for their excellent showing on and off the diamond and the many thrills they gave to all Blue & White fans who saw them in action.

As he heads for second base Dan Doore turns back to taunt the confused Bosco first baseman.

VOLLEYBALL

VOLLEYBALL. Excitement is synonymous with the GAA 1964 Volleyball season. The Swordettes show their strong winning capability by edging out Cornelia Connelly, Mater Dei, and narrowly losing to Marywood, putting St. Paul's in second place in the Catholic Girls' Highschool League. They apply their skills in thrilling practice games with St. Bernadine's, Sacred Heart of Mary, and Lakewood. Many enthusiastic rooters enhance the spirit of the season at both home and away games. Included in the cheering section are the faculty members who show their support by attending the games.

Thus, students and faculty unite to aid team members in completing another successful year for the GAA.

Volleyball team manager Karen McEvoy, team captains, Marlene Thommes and Ellen Jensen, coach Miss Campos.

Marlene Thommes and Carol Davila await the volleyball as Beth Hollinger sets it up, to score a point against St. Bernadine's.

 March 21-April 2—St. Anthony's Tournament

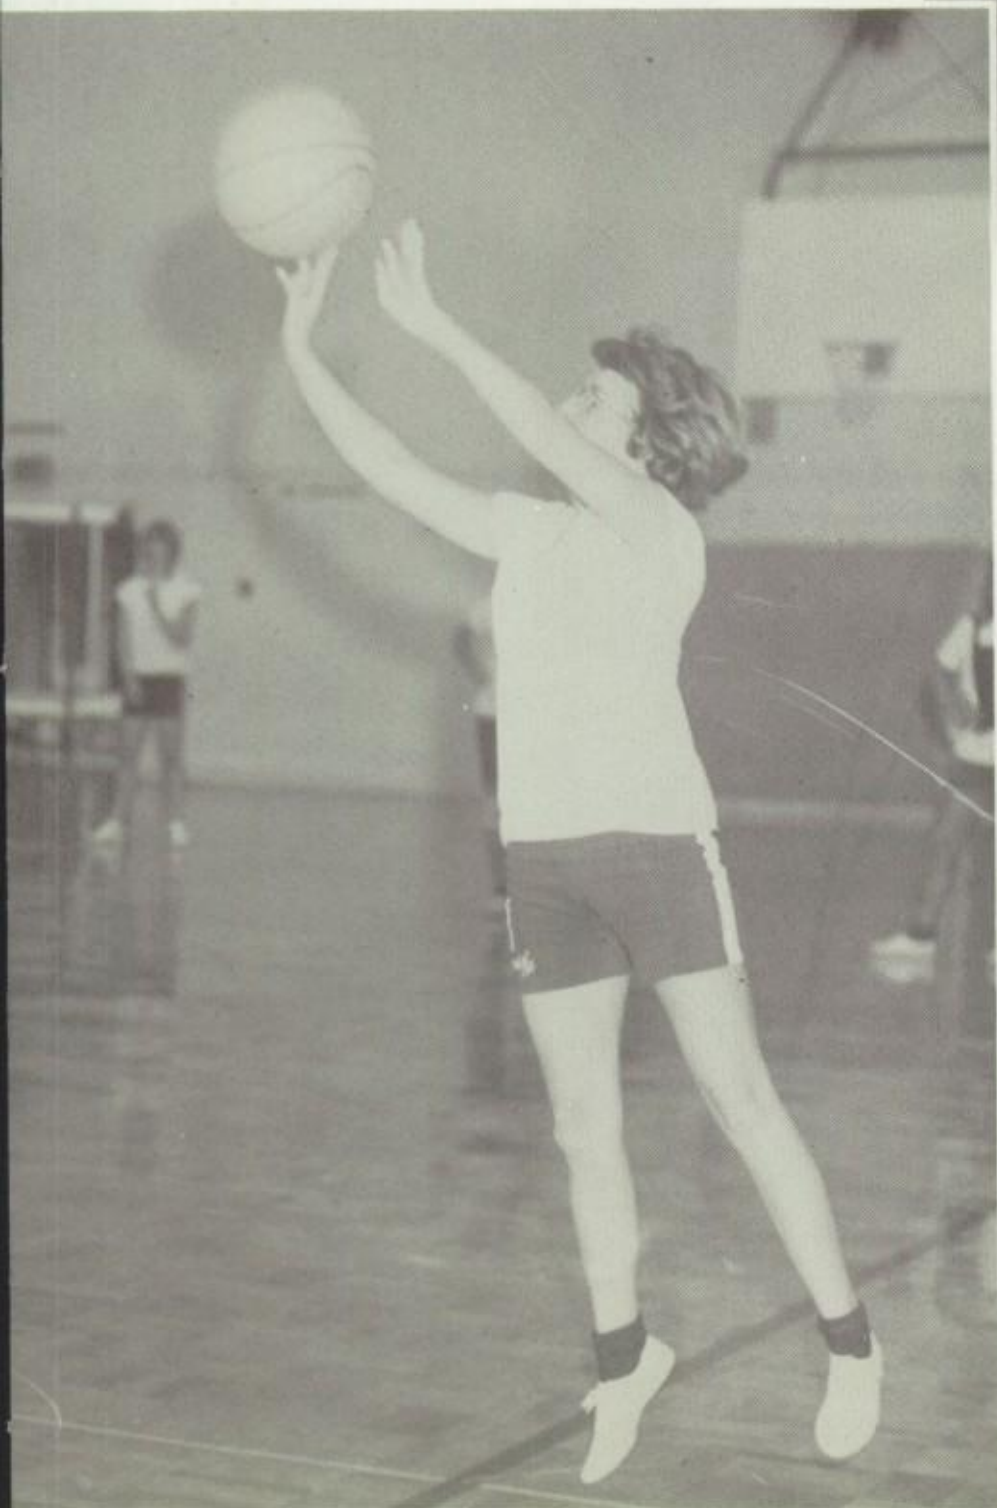

GAA BASKETBALL. In one of the Swordettes' finest years, members of the GAA basketball team proved their ability when pitched against stiff competition. Scores such as 58 to 29 against Cornelia Connelly, 40 to 26 and 30 to 10 over Marywood, and 25-11 versus Mater Dei illustrate outstanding victories.

At the annual St. Anthony's Tournament, the team played hard to attain trophies representing both cooperative spirit and exceptional skill. Time and again, enthusiastic Paulites watched the hard work and long practice hours of the team and coaching staff rewarded by a successful season.

Pat Welch and adversary strain eagerly for a jump-ball.

SWORDETTES SPRING TO VICTORY

Pat Welch shows some of the outstanding form typical of Swordette action on the court.

TRAINING SHARPENS PRECISION

Warming up for interscholastic competition, Sophomore Beth Quinn dashes for first base in breathless race with off-camera ball.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The 1965 Lumen staff owes a debt of gratitude to many people for making possible the publication of this year's annual.

First, our grateful thanks and appreciation go to Reverend Gerald J. Moschel. As the founder and first principal of St. Paul High School, Father Moschel was responsible for the phenomenal growth of this institution. His efforts have resulted in the transition from two small classrooms at St. Marianne's grammar school to one of the largest co-institutional high schools in the Los Angeles Archdiocese. We sincerely believe that this annual or any other significant part of St. Paul High School would not have been possible had it not been for Father Moschel.

We thank Father Cranham for his permission to have a yearbook, his cheerful encouragement in the first weeks of recovering ground lost through a late start, and his active support of all our endeavors.

We thank Sister Michael Marie and Brother Martin for helping us in all our emergencies.

We especially thank Miss Schiffert and Brother Kieran for the long hours they spent teaching us the fine points of making a yearbook and helping us with our everyday problems.

We thank Mr. Jon C. Nelson of Intercollegiate Press for his visits to the school to guide us in making important decisions and to check our progress throughout the year.

Lastly, we thank the students and faculty for their support of our yearbook.
